ABOUT

Why Study Allied Health?

Allied Health in general is an integral part of Australia's health care system. Allied health professionals support doctors and nurses by designing and delivering programs to improve the health and well being of patients and clients across the broad spectrum of health care. This course will get you started in a career in the Allied Health industry. It targets the aged care sector.

It will prepare you to work as an allied health assistance worker, which involves providing therapeutic and program-related support to allied health professionals.

This course is generic and designed to give you the skills and knowledge needed to work across a range of allied health services under the guidance of an allied health professional within the aged care sector. People working at this level, in conjunction with the allied health professional, may need to supervise other allied health assistance workers.

NCA also offers a specialisation in Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy.

Who is this course for?

This course is for:

- Allied Health Assistance workers in aged care who hold a Certificate III level qualification in allied health
- Experienced Allied Health Assistance workers in aged care who do not hold any formal qualifications
- People who are interested in a career in Allied Health assistance services in aged care with no experience but hold a certificate III level qualification in a related area

ABOUT

What is the duration of this course?

The average duration of this course is 12 months, though as you will be completing this course in an online environment, you will have flexibility to complete it earlier. Everyone studies at a different pace, and the time it takes you to finish the course will depend on how much you already know and how much experience you have.

National College Australia (NCA) suggests you will need to spend an average of 12 hours of study per week to complete the qualification within the maximum course duration. Your course includes a minimum of 120 hours in a suitable workplace to complete practical tasks.

What do you need to do this course?

This course does NOT have any formal entry requirements but it is important that you have:

- Access to the internet: Your reading and assessment materials have been set up online. You will need to have reliable internet to access the resources. If the internet speed is not high enough, you may struggle with uploading the required evidence, including videos, to the platform.
- Access to the computer: You will need access to a laptop or desktop for completing your course. You will need some basic computer skills to navigate the online platform using the instructions provided, and download or upload files where required.
- Basic knowledge of using software such as Microsoft Word, Excel, and Adobe PDF.
- A level of fitness that will allow you to undertake physical tasks involved in a day to day work related to the practical requirements of your course.
- Language, literacy and numeracy skills required to study at this level.

ONLINE LEARNING & ASSESSMENTS

➔ How you're assessed

There are no tests or exams. There are a combination of assessment methods to determine whether you have the required knowledge and skills to do the job.

NCA uses a variety of assessment methods to ensure you have gained sufficient knowledge and skills that are required for you to do the related job roles.

Each Skills Group is made up of a mix of the following assessment activities.

Knowledge Assessment including:

- Quizzes
- Written Questions
- Projects

Performance Assessment including:

- Observation of Practical Skills
- Third Party Reports
- Supplementary Evidence from the Workplace

To complete the performance assessments of your course, you will need to access a suitable workplace. If you are not currently working in a job role related to your course, you will need to do Work Placement. NCA will assist you in finding work placement.

Learning and assessment resources will be provided to you via your online learning platform, NCA iLearn.

If you prefer the reading material in hard copy, we can post the books to you at an additional cost.

RPL and CT

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

The Australian Qualification Framework (AQF) facilitates the progression of students through qualifications by giving credit for learning outcomes they have already achieved. The credit (if granted) may reduce the amount of learning required to achieve a qualification.

RPL is an assessment process that involves assessment of a range of evidence related to your prior learning (including formal, informal and non-formal learning), and past experiences to determine whether you can receive recognition for the learning outcomes you have already achieved.

To be considered for RPL, you must have between 2 – 5 years of experience in a job role related to this qualification, and be able to provide NCA with the evidence of tasks completed. The evidence can include work samples, images, videos, and documents.

You will also need to provide the details of one or more references that have supervised you in the past doing the relevant job tasks. They will need to support your application.

Credit Transfer (CT)

A Credit Transfer is where you already hold the exact same (or equivalent) unit(s) of competency from a previous qualification.

WORK PLACEMENT PROGRAM

Work Placement

What is Work Placement and who does it apply to?

Work Placement is a structured, assessable workplace learning program that enables you to complete your practical tasks and prepares you for the workforce. Additionally some nationally recognised qualifications allocate a minimum amount of mandatory work hours to specific units of competency.

Anyone who isn't already working in a job role related to the qualification within the industry will need to do work placement.

If you are working in a suitable job role you will be required to provide the evidence of your employment and the ability to perform the practical tasks within your current role.

Minimum required hours

This qualification has a requirement of a minimum of 120 hours in Work Placement.

How to secure Work Placement?

NCA has a dedicated Work Placement Coordinator who will support you through the process of securing work placement.

We recommend that you begin looking for a host employer shortly after commencing your course so you are ready to start placement when you have submitted knowledge assessments for your first Skills Group.

We'll provide you with guidance about when and how to approach employers; and if you cannot find a host employer, our Work Placement Coordinator will provide assistance.

Please note that some organisations may request a police clearance check before you're able to start work placement. You'll need to organise the police check yourself.

Why National College Australia?

There are many reasons for choosing NCA.

- We are a niche provider for the aged care and community services sectors. It is all we do so this is where our expertise lies.
- You will be allocated one main assessor from start to finish. Your assessor will be your main point of contact for any academic matters. Where the assigned Assessor becomes unavailable due to unforeseen circumstances, another Assessor will be assigned to you.
- We monitor your performance to make sure you're on track. The more you stick to your study plan, the greater your chances at success.
- Our Diploma courses have a recognised pathway for higher education. e.g Charles Sturt University.
- Flexible learning across all our Certificate and Diploma level courses.
- Receive 20% off on full course fees when paying upfront.
- Flexible payment plans, choose to pay weekly or fortnightly.
- Government funding available for NSW residents.
- Take advantage of our Cooling Off Period so you have the time to be 100% confident of your enrolment.

Happy Student Story

➔ Hazel. R

I've been so happy and thankful for National College Australia in helping me reach my dreams.

Two months after receiving my certificate I got a job!

*My journey in studying the Certificate III in Allied Health Assistance has taught me a lot. At first, I thought I couldn't make it but because I had a goal and a dream to land a job I really wanted, I just trusted NCA and most importantly I motivated myself to finish the course to start a new career, and to get a job, which I did!
